

SCOPUS 101 & WHAT'S NEW IN SCOPUS?

In this webinar, Alexander provides a closer look at the latest developments in Scopus and provides refresher on key search & discovery and analytical use-cases for researchers, faculty, and administrators.

7TH JULY

10:00am (SG)

PRESENTER:

Alexander Van Servellen
Senior Consultant, Research
Intelligence Elsevier

Alexander Van Servellen is a Senior Consultant for Research Intelligence at Elsevier. He has over 10 years of experience in field of research analytics, and works closely with academic and government institutions to help them use information and analytics to improve the efficiency and impact of research. He is originally from the Netherlands, and has been living and working in Singapore since 2013, where he serves institutions in South East Asia. Alexander has a MSc in Developmental Psychology, from University of Amsterdam, and has worked with Elsevier since 2008.

REGISTER

https://elsevier.zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_fvfpP6AmR8WVbpnzVVV9tg