SLCP ONLINE: School of Language, Civilization, and Philosophy (SLCP) has held a Curriculum Implementation Workshop Using Microsoft Power Point Equipment 2016 to lecturers, UUM

staff, and Ph.D. students. This workshop was handled by Dr. Mohan Rathakrishnan on August 21, 2017, at Computer Laboratory B SEML near SLCP.

The purpose of this workshop was to expose the curriculum implementation using power point and the use of interesting techniques to form effective teaching designs.

The workshop was held for students and lecturers who knew about using power points tool but did not know the right techniques to use them and to make a good presentation. The participants were also given guidance on the icons and features available in Power Point 2016.

Participants experienced new techniques in using power point as content sharing, collaborative tool, and attractive visual impact in the power point presentation. Prior to the workshop, the participant perceived power point as a tool just to do explanation. This new knowledge of using power point tool encouraged Ph.D. students to present their proposal defends confidently. There will be phase II workshop in future.

Thank you.
