QAP LAUNCHING OFFERS ADDED VALUES TO UUM STUDENTS

IPQ ONLINE: : 2 May 2016 (Monday) – the Institute of Quality Management Apprenticeship Programme (QAP). A number of 18 undergraduates from various undergo the first session of the programme for 4 semesters. Upon the completion of the programme, they will be awarded with certificate of Young Quality & Strategic Planning Manager.

The establishment of QAP is an idea by the Director of IPQ, Assoc. Prof Dr Haim Haim. In his speech, he said that QAP founding by IPQ was an initiative by members of IPQ to provide the selected students with skills which will later be an added value to their degree.

"IPQ is one of the Centre of Authorities responsible towards the University Quality Management. Planning will try our best to channel the knowledge especially in practical aspects. In the future, we will train the students to become auditors, ISO 9001: 2015 practitioners and 5S practitioners. We will also train the students to be creative and innovative and prepare them to be a Plan and Action Plan developer" he said.

During the launching, the participants were briefed on QAP implementation by Assoc. Prof Dr Mohamad Faizal Ahmad Zaidi, which is also the Manager of Quality Excellence System. He said, "We will do our level best to support the students to gain the added values which will benefit them in the future."

IPQ hopes the establishment of QAP will open a new chapter for IPQ especially in the University in enhancing the graduates capabilities and sought-after by employers in the market, especially in the aspects of quality and strategic planning.

End.
